This event consists of a slow walk across the grounds of the Black Castle. There are some smooth concrete, ramped pathways which are initially accessible, however there are limited pathways up to the Black Castle itself. There are non-regulatory heritage steps leading both down and up to the Black Castle and the ground conditions are very uneven.

The walk will last an approximate duration of 1 hour, with lots of stops along the way. There are ten public benches available across the grounds of the Black Castle.

The walk will be guided by two members of Studio idir, and there will be audio recording and photography happening throughout. Please make one of the guides aware if you wish not to be recorded in either of these ways. By bringing along any of your own photographs to share as part of the exhibition, you confirm that you have the permission of any people, or of their guardians, who appear in your photograph, to share the photo with us and for it to appear in the exhibition and online in any associated press or social media.
